

Austin Chamber Business Profile (Sample Page)

Whole Foods Market
(512) 476-1206
525 N. Lamar
Austin, Texas
wholefoods.com

This 80,000-square-foot flagship store for the natural/organic supermarket chain's world headquarters is both a showcase for the company's philosophy and one of the most entertaining supermarkets you'll ever visit. It's been a major tourist attraction since it opened in 2005. Enjoy a casual sit-down lunch, and the options are abundant, whether you're craving sushi, pizza, or seafood all inside the store. The store also has one of Austin's largest wine selections and a walk-in beer cooler. Ample free garage parking available.

Stubb's BBQ
(512) 482-8422
801 Red River
Austin, Texas 78701
stubbsoaustin.com

Stubb's legendary BBQ was born in the 1970's, Stubb's restaurant became the heart of an explosive music scene. Stubb's was ground zero for musicians like Joe Ely and Stevie Ray Vaughn. Other famous musicians who would "play for their supper" included Muddy Waters, John Lee Hooker, Willie Nelson, Johnny Cash, Robert Cray, George Thorogood, Clarence "Gatemouth" Brown, Linda Ronstadt and the Fabulous Thunderbirds. Restaurant is always filled with good friends, great music and plenty of Stubb's Legendary Bar-B-Q.

Bob Bullock State Museum
(512) 936-8746
1800 N. Congress
Austin, Texas 78701
thestoryoftexas.com

Telling the "Story of Texas" with three floors of interactive exhibits, the special effects show, the Star of Destiny, in the Texas Spirit Theatre, and IMAX Theatre. A 35-foot-tall bronze Lone Star sculpture greets visitors in front of the Museum, and a colorful terrazzo floor in the Museum's rotunda features a campfire scene with enduring themes from Texas' past. The Museum also has a Cafe with indoor and outdoor seating and a Museum Store with something for the Texan in everyone.

Broken Spoke
(512) 442-6189
3201 S. Lamar
Austin, Texas 78704
austintx.com

The Broken Spoke is Texas' most definitive dance hall. It's has a musical history that dates back to Bob Wills and The Texas Playboys. If you're ever in Austin, stop by for some traditional country music by some "real" country musicians. Surfing the menu at the Broken Spoke is like a trail ride in Texas. Our kitchen is open 11:00am 'til 10:30pm, Tue, Wed and Thu; and 11:30pm Friday and Saturday. From our famous Chicken Fried Steak which is a great value at $8.25, to our famous hamburgers for $3.25, you can't go wrong.

Alamo Draffthouse Cinema
(512) 476-1320
320 E. Sixth Street
Austin, Texas 78701
originalalamo.com

The Alamo Draffthouse Cinema is Austin's only independently owned and operated movie theater. We serve a full menu of dinner and drinks to your seat while you watch the movie. The theater is laid out like a traditional movie theater, except every other row of seats has been replaced with a long narrow table for your food and drinks.

University Co-op
(800) 255-1896
2246 Guadalupe
Austin, TX 78705
universitycoop.com

The University Co-op was founded in 1896 by Dr. William J. Battle. Dr. Battle organized support for creating a bookstore that was an association owned by students, faculty, and staff to furnish books, supplies, and clothing at discounted prices to its members.. All the after-rebate profit of the Co-op is used to support university-related projects and activities. Since 2000, The Co-op has given over 28 million dollars to UT in the form of gifts, grants and rebates.

El Gallo Restaurant
512-444-2205
2910 S Congress Ave
Austin, TX 78704
elgallorestaurant.com

Take a ride back in time when entering this border style restaurant that has been bringing authentic Mexican food to Austin for over 50 years. Low level Tejano music helps contain the atmosphere. The walls show off historically significant murals with warm, dark, colors and red Saltillo tiles truly bring the old world sense of decor into the 21st century. By being directly across the street from St. Edwards, this location has been a favorite of students and parents alike but patrons come from all over town.

Guero's Taco Bar
(512) 447-7688
1412 S Congress Ave
Austin, Texas 78704
guerostacobar.com

Guero's Taco Bar offers hand-shaken margaritas made in the original way with fresh-squeezed lime juice. Muy peligroso! Just about any Mexican beer you name can be served up icy cold. Our bar will remind you of the great old cantinas you have visited in Mexico. The staff at Guero's is friendly, kind of eclectic and dedicated to Guero's long term commitment to service. So sit back, enjoy and let us do what we do best.