

Table 12: Training the Next Generation

CHRISTINE JOHNSON

Dr. Christine Johnson has 26 years experience as an educator. She is involved in numerous professional and civic associations at many levels where she champions equity and excellence in public and higher education. President of the Community College of Denver, she leads a multi-campus, culturally and ethnically diverse institution with an annual FTE of approximately 14,000 students.

Dr. Johnson was appointed to the Board of Directors of the Fund for the Improvement of Secondary Education and was recently honored by the Denver Hispanic Chamber of Commerce for being the first Hispanic Woman College President in Colorado, and by the Girl Scouts of America as a "Woman of Distinction" Award winner.